

CHAPTER 8630 - TRAINING

(1987)

GENERAL

(1987)

8630

Until an official lookout training package is developed, lookouts will continue to be trained locally. The Wildland Fire Detection Procedures Handbook with its standard operating procedure and a well-developed facility operating plan can be excellent training aids. These documents alone, however, are not enough. They must be supplemented with a thorough unit orientation. Following is a list of recommended activities.
